

Your gift to the Southern Arizona Veterans and First Responders Living Memorial honors First Responders and their Military colleagues.

With a goal of $1.9 million to build and maintain the Living Memorial, dedicated volunteers are working to personally engage with philanthropic individuals, corporations and foundation throughout southern Arizona.

Sheriff Napier Believes Memorial Vital to Community

Pima County Sheriff Mark D. Napier keenly understands the sacrifices and contributions made by our veterans and first responders. A law enforcement officer for 30 years with service in the U.S. Army Reserve, Napier believes the Southern Arizona Veterans and First Responders Living Memorial is vital to our community.

“The Memorial sends a clear message of support and acknowledgement of our veterans and first responders, people who have given so much so we can live free and in safety,” he says. “Combining both into a Living Memorial is a very special project. It will be a place of learning and reflection that will draw people from across the country to our community. Best of all, it will be located in my beloved hometown of Oro Valley.”

With tremendous support from people like Sheriff Napier, who wear a uniform and serve our country, and from all of us, working together we will raise the private funds needed to bring the Living Memorial to completion. Visit our website to learn more.

Join in the Effort! Fund the Memorial Now!

Art, monuments and landscaping that are symbolic to all branches of the Department of Defense and First Responders will fill the Southern Arizona Veterans and First Responders Living Memorial and the memorial will be free to all visitors.

"We now have the opportunity to create a once-in-a-lifetime project to honor all the military branches and first responders," said Dick Eggerding, chair of the Living Memorial Executive Board and the originator and proponent of the memorial concept to the Oro Valley Town Council. "At the same time, we can create a project that provides an environment for meditation, important events and educational opportunities."

The fundraising goal of $1.9 million will provide for the construction and maintenance of the Living Memorial to be located on 2.5 acres in Naranja Park, allocated by the Town of Oro Valley, in full view of the Catalina Mountains' Pusch Ridge.

We are thrilled to report that we have so far raised more than $300,000 towards the project and will spend 2019 working to "Fund the Memorial Now!" Expect a call from us or visit our website to learn more.
